

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. A SELECTION FROM THE BEST BOOKS OF 1899 WITH NOTES

PREFATORY NOTE

This is an annotated list of 225 books published in the United States in 1899, selected by the book board of the New York state library and recommended to the public libraries of the state. To aid in the choice of small collections of new books three classes are marked. Books marked a, of which there are 20, are suggested to libraries which must confine their additions within narrow limits. 30 others marked b are also proposed to libraries prepared to buy 50 books, and 50 more marked c may be added to a and b to make up 100 books.

The remaining 125, including reference books and a few more costly publications, are worthy of careful consideration by libraries prepared to buy more than 100 books and by those wishing to enlarge their resources in special subjects. Many of the unmarked books are of the highest merit. Decimal classification numbers are prefixed as a guide to libraries using this system.

All books under the heading "Juvenile" may be used for academic libraries. The general list will also be of much service to schools, but not everything included here is recommended for school use. Such a book as Whiteing's, No. 5 John st., a well written and carefully studied story of the London slums, may be commended to the public library because of its sociologic interest and as a praiseworthy sample of its type, but it is hardly desirable to circulate even the best of slum fiction among school children. The school is better off without much of the current adult fiction which serves a legitimate purpose for the very different constituency of the public library.

Copies of this list may be obtained from the Public libraries division, Albany N. Y.

BIBLIOGRAPHY OF DOMESTIC ECONOMY

IN ENGLISH

PREFACE

The aim of this bibliography is to include all bound books on domestic economy published in the English language between 1850 and 1899 inclusive. Pamphlets are as a rule omitted, and likewise all entries listed at 10c or less in American, and 6d or less in English money. No attempt has been made to include analytic or magazine references, a limitation barring government documents in which much useful material may be found. Of periodicals dealing chiefly with subjects in domestic economy only current magazines and journals find place in the list, or those which have been met with in catalogues or bibliographies. Lists of earlier ones may be found in the newspaper guides cited among the bibliographic aids.

The term "domestic economy" has been taken in the narrower sense of the management of house and children, together with the teaching of domestic economy and cookery thus covering the same ground as subject number 640 of the Decimal classification. With few exceptions, material is arranged by the following tentative scheme proposed for the seventh (20th century) edition of the Decimal classification; though many heads, specially under 643-645 fall outside the scope of this bibliography.

Call numbers are given for books in the New York state library, but not for those in the public libraries division. Books marked e have been personally examined, while c means that the edition given is different from the one examined; the best books are starred. Bost. Sal. Wor. at the end of entries stand for Boston, Salem, Worcester public libraries; N. Y. for N. Y. state library.

CONNECTICUT LOCAL HISTORY

PREFACE

The purpose of this list is to show briefly and clearly the resources of the New York state library in Connecticut local history. The arrangement of counties is according to the Decimal classification, and under the counties alphabetically by towns; histories of villages being included under the township of which they form a part. Dates of incorporation and of origin are given, also the name of the parent town in cases of subdivision. A number of works on Connecticut as a whole are grouped at the beginning as a brief selection for ready reference.

The term local history is employed in its restricted sense, allied topics of education, manufactures, commerce, geology, Indians, etc., being omitted. The ecclesiastical affairs of the towns, however, have been so closely interwoven with civil history, specially in early days, that all such material is incorporated. Genealogies of old Connecticut families and individual biographies, though of considerable historical value, are excluded because of their great number and as outside the strict scope of this list, and also because families and persons of sufficient importance in a locality for separate study are indicated in general chapters or works. Among biographies which should not be overlooked is Sprague's Annals of the American pulpit. A. P. C. Griffin's indexes and Poole's Index have been freely used.

Important historical events like the Danbury expedition and the storming of Fort Griswold are treated in separate works, and therefore references have not been given to general histories.

Since about 1888 the city directories very often include lists of persons who have died or married during the year, and in some cases also lists of removals from town.

NEW YORK COLONIAL HISTORY

PREFACE

This bibliography covers the history of New Netherland, or New York as colony and province, from its discovery to 1776. Though New York's sway extended at times over lands now included in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maine, the list includes only the territory within the present limits of the state.

The first settlement in New Jersey was made in 1623 by the Dutch ; the first permanent settlement in 1664, when New Jersey was granted by the duke of York to Berkeley and Carteret. In 1702 the provinces of East and West Jersey were united and surrendered to Queen Anne, and from 1703 to 1738 New York and New Jersey were under the same governors. Pennsylvania was settled by the Swedes in 1643, the Dutch settlement of 1623 having been abandoned. In 1655 the Dutch under Stuyvesant took possession of both Pennsylvania and Delaware, and they were claimed by the governors of New York till 1682, when Penn obtained a quit claim from the duke of York. That part of Maine known first as Pemaquid and its dependencies, and in 1683 organized as the county of Cornwall, was under the governors of New York from 1673 to 1686, when it was annexed to New England. For relations with other colonies, their histories and colonial records should be consulted.

Southold, Southampton, Easthampton and other towns in eastern Long Island formed part of Connecticut previous to 1664. For their history during that period the student is referred to the histories and colonial records of the Connecticut and New Haven colonies.

Different editions of a work have been noted when at hand, but no attempt has been made at bibliographic completeness for editions or full titles. Those wishing this information should consult the works under "Bibliographies consulted." Printed indexes and calendars of manuscript are included, but not the manuscripts themselves. Many histories of special churches are included for the large amount of local history which they contain. Of city charters and legislative journals only the best reprints are given. Newspaper articles, historical fiction, legends, Indians and Indian missions, boundary disputes, genealogies of single families, French settlements in western New York, and material relating to Columbia university, formerly Kings college, are omitted.

Maps are also omitted, but information may be found in the following:

Asher, G; M. comp. List of the maps and charts of New Netherland and of the views of New Amsterdam. 22+23p. N. Y. 1855. (in his Bibliographical and historical essay. 1854-67) 016.97 As3

Based on the list in Manual of the city of New York. 1863. 22:839-52, 352.0747 N4k.

For bibliography of the West India company and the East India company the student is referred to no. 21-327 in Asher's Bibliographical and historical essay. 1854-67.

The bibliography aims to be complete only to December 1898, but important works published since then are included when they have come to the compilers' notice.

Long Island

Local history Long Island

The eastern part was settled by the English from New England and the towns included in the present county of Suffolk and part of Queens placed themselves under the jurisdiction of New Haven. By the treaty of Hartford in 1650, the west line of Oyster Bay was made the boundary between the Dutch and English claims. In 1664 on the conquest of the duke of York, the whole island became part of his dominion.

CHINA AND THE FAR EAST

CONTRIBUTION TOWARD A BIBLIOGRAPHY

PREFACE

This list includes those books treating of China and the Far East published in English for the first time from 1889-99. Many books bearing an imprint date within that period have in fact been published previously and have not been enlarged or revised to an extent that would make it desirable to include them. No attempt has been made to include all the material on the subject to be found in the official publications of the British government, though the student of social and economic conditions and affairs in the Far East will find therein much valuable information. The transactions of learned societies have not been analyzed. Directories, dictionaries, textbooks and grammars are excluded.

ABBREVIATIONS

Abbreviations following entries refer to the libraries in which the books were consulted. Call numbers are given for all books in the New York state library even though the edition differs from that described in the list. Books in the public libraries division have no book number. Books marked e have been personally examined, while e indicates that the edition examined is not the same as that entered in the list. Volume and page numbers are separated by a colon; e. g. 3: 489 means vol.3, p. 489.

The following are the principal abbreviations used : others are self-explanatory.

FRÖBEL AND THE KINDERGARTEN

PREFACE

The aim has been to include in this list everything (with the few exceptions below) published in the English language on Fröbel and the kindergarten, including kindergarten periodicals, parts of books and scattered articles. The annual reports of the United States commissioner of education have been indexed as well as the proceedings of the National educational association; but reports of kindergarten associations and material in reports of state and city boards of public instruction have been omitted on account of inability to make such lists complete.

It is hoped that users of this bibliography will bear in mind that in attempting to make it complete many entries have been made that are valuable only in their relation to the whole. If mistakes are found in arrangement of entries, it is largely due to the fact that many of the books included were not seen, and classification from title must necessarily be faulty.

Among the libraries in which the books examined were found are the Library of congress, the Astor library, and the libraries of the Peabody institute of Baltimore, Columbia university, Teachers college, New York state normal college, and the Kindergarten training school of Baltimore. The largest collection was seen at the publishing house of E. Steiger & Co. of New York city, who kindly allowed access to their entire stock of Fröbel and kindergarten literature.

AIMEE GUGGENHEIMER

A few books which have appeared since the completion of this bibliography (August 1899) have been added, but no attempt has been made to bring it up to date. ED.

ABBREVIATIONS

Abbreviations following main entries refer to libraries in which books were consulted. Call numbers are given for all books in the New York state library even though the edition differs from that in the list, except that for books not yet in the new card catalogue and for those in the home education department the class number only is given. Books marked e have been personally examined, while e indicates that the edition examined is not the same as that entered in the list. Volume and page numbers are separated by a colon; e.g. 57 : 811-16 means vol. 57, p.811-16.

The following are the principal abbreviations used; others are self-explanatory.

Astor	Astor library
Columbia	Columbia university library
Congress	Library of congress
K. tr. sch.	Kindergarten training school of Baltimore
N. Y. state nor. col.	New York state normal college
Peabody	Peabody institute of Baltimore
Steiger	E. Steiger & Co. New York
Teachers col.	Teachers college

PREFACE

This reading list has been compiled with special reference to the needs of librarians who undertake without the benefit of pedagogic training the responsible task of influencing young readers at the most impressionable time of their lives. It is constantly becoming more generally acknowledged that their profession requires an acquaintance, not only with the most approved methods of library administration, but also with the elementary principles of psychology, ethics, sociology and education. Most of the books selected are popular in style, though a few more scholarly works are given under each head. Arrangement leads from the simpler to the more profound, where such a distinction can be profitably made, and a star singles out a few works as of particular value. Critical notes show the fitness of the books for the special purpose of this list, rather than their interest to the general reader. Unsigned notes are by the compilers; sources of other notes are given whether condensed or quoted exactly. Exact citation is made whenever possible. References following the notes are to more extended reviews and notices.

ABBREVIATIONS

Abbreviations following main entries refer to the libraries in which books were consulted. Call numbers are given for all books in the New York state library, even though the edition differs from that described in the list; the class number only is given for books in extension libraries, while books in the traveling libraries are marked 'Trav. lib.' followed by the number of the library and the book. Books marked e have been personally examined; e shows that the edition examined differs from that entered in the list. Volume and page numbers are separated by a colon; e. g. 5 : 143 means vol. 5, p. 143.

PSYCHOLOGY

Baldwin, James Mark. Story of the mind. 236p.illus.S. N.Y. 1898. Appleton 40c. (Library of useful stories) 150 B194 e
Busy librarians will find this concise handbook of psychology a most helpful introduction to the subject and an incentive to farther study.
Phil. rev. Sep. 1899, 8:554 and Psych. rev. Nov. 1898, 5:671-72.

James, William. Talks to teachers on psychology and to students on some of life's ideals. 301p.O. N.Y. 1899. Holt $1.50 370.1 J23

Presents those vital principles of psychology which should underlie teaching. Librarians will find it unusually stimulating and suggestive, not only because it puts them in touch with teachers, but also because the same principles must equally be the foundation of all successful library work.
Psych. rev. Sep. 1899, 6:536-39.

——— Psychology. 478p.D. N.Y. 1893. Holt $1.60. (American science ser. briefer course) 150 J231

Based on his Principles of psychology, omitting the polemics, history and pure speculation of the advanced work. Leypoldt, p.112.

Shows the physical basis of intellectual and emotional life, a knowledge which is essential to workers in every department of education.
Mind, Oct. 1892, ser. 2, 1:531-39.

Morgan, C. Lloyd. Psychology for teachers; with a pref. by H. W. Jameson. 240p. D. N.Y. 1898. Scribner $1. 150 M82

Elementary but well written and helpful for its scientific spirit and practical suggestions. Ped. sem. June 1896, 3:488.

Amer. j. psych. Jan. 1896, 7:301; Mind, Apr. 1895, ser. 2, 4:258-59.

O'Shea, M. Vincent. Psychology for normal schools. (see Education, Child study Dec. 1895, 16:193-201) 370.5 Ed8 e

Full of practical suggestion. O'Shea, like James, gives to educators practical psychology for everyday life.

Baldwin, James Mark. Social and ethical interpretations in mental development; a study in social psychology. 574p. D. N. Y. 1897. Macmillan $2.60. 150 B193 e

Attempts on basis of observations of psychic development of children to draw parallel between progress of society and evolution of individual. Shows specially how a child is educated by environment and suggestion into an appreciation of race ideas and sentiments.

Dial, Jan. 1, 1898, 24:18-19; Nation, Mar. 31, 1898, 66:250; Spectator, Aug. 20, 1898, 81:250.

Lange, Karl. Apperception, a monograph on psychology and pedagogy; tr. by members of the Herbart club, ed. by Charles de Garmo. 279p. D. Bost. 1893. Heath $1. (Heath's pedagogical library) 150 L26 e

Makes an exhaustive examination of theory of apperception and points out its varied application to teaching and its value. B. R. Shaw.

This law, generally accepted by educators, is applicable to library work, as it helps decide what books are appreciated and understood by the individual child.

Spencer, Herbert. Principles of psychology. 2v. O. N. Y. 1890. Appleton $4. (Spencer's Synthetic philosophy, v. 4-5) 150 Sp32 e

Included in this short list because it marked an epoch in psychologic thought. One who reads this long work conscientiously will find it a thorough ground work for future study.

Child study

Hall, Granville Stanley. Contents of children's minds on entering school. 56p. D. N. Y. 1893. Kellogg 25c. Bost. e

This study which has awakened thought and led to many changes in the subject matter of primary education will help librarians estimate the knowledge and ignorance of children and judge of their interests.

Also in Ped. sem. June 1891, 1:139-73.

Preyer, Wilhelm. Mental development in the child; tr. from the German by H: W: Brown. 170p. D. N. Y. 1893. Appleton $1. (International education ser. no. 24) 150 P921 e

Important and interesting results of personal observations readably presented, to encourage the psychologic study of child life.

Educ. rev. Mar. 1894, 7:295-97; School rev. Feb. 1894, 2:107.

Ethics

- *Baldwin, James Mark. Mental development in the child and the race: methods and processes. 496p. illus. O. N. Y. 1895. Macmillan $2. 150 B192 e

Patient study of this book will result in a good idea of the theories which scientific child study is tending to establish. Chapters on Imitation and Suggestion are the most practical in the book. Lawrence, p. 30.

Amer. j. psych. Oct. 1895, 7:142-45; Mind, Jan. 1896, ser. 2, 5:97-103; Phil. rev. July 1895, ser. 2, 4:423-27.

ETHICS

- Winterburn, Florence Hull. Nursery ethics. 241p. S. N. Y. 1895. Merriam $1. 173.5 W73 e

On right attitude of parents, authority, obedience, conflicting authorities, emotional outbursts, prenatal influences, little faults, self-government, etc. N. Y. state trav. lib. Subject no. 372, p. 5.

Will help librarian in personal relations with children.

- Addis, Welford. Legal rights of children. (see U. S.—Education, Bureau of. Report. 1896-97, v.1, pt 1, p.615-41) 379.73 Un31 e

Knowledge of general and local laws relating to minors will be very useful.

- *Fairchild, Edwin Milton. Society's need of effective ethical instruction in school and church and the suggestion of an available method. p. 433-47, O. Chic. 1899. Educational church board, Albany 25C. e

The suggestion of ethical instruction from photographs of social life marks a new era in educational methods. It is the result of much careful observation and scientific investigation, and will help decide what pictures to use and why, and what illustrations are desirable in children's books.

Reprinted from Amer. j. soc. Jan. 1899, 4:433-47.

- Hamerton, Philip Gilbert. Intellectual life. 455p. illus. D. Bost. 1894. Roberts $2. 374 H17 e

Teaching deals so intimately with human nature that books of this character are often more suggestive than those which deal with pedagogy more directly. Lawrence, p. 34.

- Clarke, James Freeman. Self-culture: physical, intellectual, moral and spiritual; a course of lectures. Ed. 17. 446p. O. Bost. 1891. Houghton $1.50. 374 C55 e

MAINE LOCAL HISTORY

PREFACE

This list aims to show the resources of both New York state and Bowdoin college libraries in Maine local history, excluding education, geology, Indians, special manufactures, family genealogy, individual biography, and similar allied topics; but including manuals of churches and lodges of freemasons when containing lists of members covering several years.

Several general works are grouped at the beginning for ready reference. Works with distinct chapters on localities and historical periodicals have been analyzed. Bangor historical magazine is entered in full under Bangor but analyzed for other localities, and Old times in North Yarmouth is entered under each of the half dozen closely related towns concerned but not analyzed for single authors. Articles in general magazines are also included, Williamson's Bibliography of Maine having been used for those before 1890. As a rule notes and queries of less than a page have not been indexed.

The arrangement is the same as that of bibliography 23 in this series, C: A. Flagg's Connecticut local history, after which this list is modeled: counties according to the Decimal classification and under them their towns in alphabetic order. Dates of incorporation and the many changes in territory of towns and counties are given so fully and conveniently in Maine register that these items are omitted from the headings of this list.

Acknowledgment of suggestions and aid is specially due to the librarian of Bowdoin college and to the senior librarian of New York state.

DREW B. HALL

ABBREVIATIONS

Volume and page numbers are separated by a colon: e. g. 3:145 means v. 3, p. 145. Call numbers for both libraries are given, those for New York state in black face type.

A class number, if without book number or other abbreviation indicates a work in the New York traveling libraries; if followed by pam, an unbound pamphlet. A few works not regularly catalogued are marked N. Y. and, Bowdoin.

A SELECTION FROM THE BEST BOOKS OF 1900
WITH NOTES

PREFATORY NOTE

This is an annotated list of 250 books published in the United States in 1900, selected by the book board of the New York state library and recommended to the public libraries of the state. To aid in choosing small collections of new books three classes are marked: books marked a, of which there are 20, are suggested to libraries which must confine their additions within narrow limits; 30 others marked b are also proposed to libraries prepared to buy 50 books; and 50 more marked c may be added to a and b to make up 100 books.

The remaining 150, including reference books and a few more costly publications, are worthy of careful consideration by libraries prepared to buy more than 100 books and by those wishing to enlarge their resources in special subjects. Many of the unmarked works are of the highest merit. Decimal classification numbers are prefixed as a guide to libraries using this system.

All books under the heading "Juvenile" may be used for academic libraries. The general list will also be of much service to schools, but not everything included here is recommended for school use. Such a book as Whiteing's, No. 5 John st. a well written and carefully studied story of the London slums, may be commended to the public library because of its sociologic interest and as a praiseworthy sample of its type, but it is hardly desirable to circulate even the best of slum fiction among school children. The school is better off without much of the current adult fiction which serves a legitimate purpose for the very different constituency of the public library.

Copies of this list may be obtained for 10 cents from the New York state library, Albany N. Y.

DIRECTOR'S NOTE

This list provides books to the amount of $500, assuming that an average discount of one third will be secured, except in case of a few books marked net and specially allowed for. Wherever there is opportunity for choice, editions have been carefully selected. Considerations of economy have debarred mention of many excellent editions, but have not induced the recommendation of poor print, paper or editing. An occasional note gives information about more expensive editions or fuller treatises which would be desirable could they be afforded, but which can not be substituted without exceeding the $500 limit or excluding something else. Where alternatives are suggested in the main list, as in case of cyclopedias, translations of Homer, etc. provision has been made for buying the more expensive work, but not both. When more than one edition is mentioned, the first is the one reckoned. Amounts in headings represent list prices and do not include alternatives.

Certain series of miscellaneous standard literature, which appear frequently on the list and are sometimes brought into comparison, perhaps need brief description. The volumes of the Riverside literature series (Houghton) are 12mos printed in clear, medium size type on good opaque paper and bound in brown linen. They are also bound in paper and boards, but only the cloth binding is quoted on this list. The Riverside school library (Houghton) volumes are generally printed from the same plates as the Riverside literature series, on somewhat finer paper and bound in red half leather. The World's classics (Putnam) are less expensive reissues of the well known Knickerbocker nuggets. The type, though not large, is clear, the page well spaced, and the paper good. They are neatly bound small 16mos. The Elia series (Putnam) are larger 16mos, admirable in type and paper, with gilt top and rough edges. These series, with Longmans' English classics, Sibley & Ducker's Students series of English classics, Macmillan's School editions, and others of recognized value, may be depended on as evenly good. To know one is to be assured of the quality of all. Unfortunately this is not always true of special editions and series, the uniformity sometimes consisting only in binding and price. Of the Stratford edition of Irving certain volumes are good while others are poor. Crowell's Waldorf library, uncommonly satisfactory for the price in many instances, is very unequal and sometimes decidedly inferior. It has been recommended in this list only after examination of the individual volume.

Books marked a aggregate $200. If to these the books marked b are added, the amount will reach $300. This selection merely suggests probable first needs in case it is impracticable to buy all on the list, but it does not imply that these books are superior in quality. It is of course impossible to make a limited list which shall perfectly meet diverse conditions and needs. A German dictionary or an advanced chemistry may be almost useless in one school and absolutely necessary in another. Variations must be made to suit requirements of special courses and interests of the community. The resources of a school must also be considered. It is hoped that these briefer selections will meet average requirements fairly well and that the full list will furnish suggestions for special wants.

Literature

- Bryant, W: C. Poetical works. Appleton $1.50. (Household ed.) 811
- Holmes, O. W. Poetical works. Houghton $2 (Cambridge ed.); $1 (Cabinet ed.) 811
- a*Longfellow, H: W. Complete poetical works. Houghton $2 (Cambridge ed.); $1 (Cabinet ed.) 811

- a*Whittier, J: G. Complete poetical works. Houghton $2 (Cambridge ed.); $1 (Cabinet ed.) 811

The Cambridge, Cabinet, and Household editions of Holmes, Longfellow, Lowell, and Whittier are the only complete one volume editions of these poets. The Cambridge editions, admirable in type, paper, binding and editing, have the latest revisions and biographic sketches. The new Cabinet editions are in excellent but rather small type, printed on thinner paper, without biographies or notes, but complete except that in some cases discarded matter printed in the appendix in Cambridge editions is omitted. They are remarkably good cheap editions, and while less desirable than the Cambridge, are from newer plates than and are preferable to some volumes in the Household edition, $1.50.

- — ed. by W: L. Phelps. Putnam $1. (Students' ed.) 817

G. P. Putnam's Sons publish several editions of Irving of very unequal merit. The special volumes issued in the Students' ed. are printed from new plates and are excellent. The Hudson ed. complete at $1.50 each and the Stratford of Knickerbocker and the Sketch book, $1.25 each, may be recommended for library use.

 Most satisfactory cheap ed. Follows text of Globe ed. Type clear, of good size, paper excellent, lines not numbered. Attention is also called to:

- New variorum edition of Shakespeare, ed. by H. H. Furness. Lippincott, v.1-12, $3 net each. 822

Now ready:

As you like it	Much ado about nothing
Hamlet (2v.)	Othello
King Lear	Romeo and Juliet
Macbeth	The tempest
Merchant of Venice	Winter's tale
Midsummer night's dream

Present results of an exhaustive collation of texts and gives a full selection of commentary. Invaluable to students and for reference, but not desirable for reading.

- Works; ed. by Richard Grant White. 6v. Houghton $1.75
 (Riverside ed.) 822

Excellent in text, notes, type and paper. Very desirable for school or home reading.

- Works; ed. by W. G. Clark and W. A. Wright. Macmillan $1.75
 (Globe ed.) 822

Probably best one volume ed. Type too fine but clear and not worn. Paper very thin but good; text excellent; lines numbered.

- Labberton, R. H. New historical atlas and general history. Silver $2 net. 911
- Rand, McNally & Co. pub. New imperial atlas of the world. $2.50. 912

Outside measure $14\frac{1}{4} \times 11\frac{1}{2}$ in. 38 double page, 63 single page maps; single page plans of cities; 95 insets; map of Luzon and South African war map. Marginal index. Same plates as in their Universal atlas, \$5, without descriptive text.

If a large atlas is desired we recommend Rand, McNally & Co.'s Indexed atlas of the world, 2v. \$18.50, as at present the most satisfactory and complete American. Outside measure $22 \times 15\frac{1}{2}$ in. 65 double page, 36 single page maps, 15 double page, 10 single page plans of cities; 120 small maps, insets, etc. Attention is also called to the Times atlas 34s. Outside measure $16\frac{1}{2} \times 11\frac{1}{4}$ in. 196 maps. These maps are much better executed than the American maps, but the United States is inadequately represented. Bartholomew's World atlas, Nelson \$8, $14\frac{3}{4} \times 11\frac{3}{4}$ in., 61 maps, is also better executed than the Rand McNally & Co. atlases, but gives fewer details than the Times atlas. It has United States maps. W. & A. K. Johnston's World-wide atlas, 7s 6d, $12\frac{1}{2} \times$

n. with well engraved maps, treats the western continent meagerly but is a Travel useful supplement to Rand, McNally & Co.'s Imperial atlas, specially for insets of important localities in detail and for fuller maps of Asia and Africa. The Century atlas is at present sold by H. E. Hooper, half Russia $7.50. It represents the United States well and is better executed than the Rand, McNally & Co. maps, though inferior to the Times atlas. At the above price it is most desirable, but this is announced as a temporary offer, to lapse when the supply printed to complete sets of subscribers to the original Century dictionary is exhausted.

REGENTS COURSES IN LITERATURE

A SELECTION OF DESIRABLE EDITIONS OF BOOKS REQUIRED IN ENGLISH AND AMERICAN, GERMAN, FRENCH AND SPANISH LITERATURE

In the following lists complete editions for library use stand first, followed by selections and editions for school use, arranged under each title in order of cost. Economy, type, paper and editing have been important considerations in selection. The list however does not profess to include all desirable editions, for so many are now published that a complete list, unless very fully annotated, would probably be more confusing than helpful. A wider selection is offered by trade catalogues, which publishers will gladly supply. All of the better series are represented in the list, though none is included complete. Under Shakspeare exception has been made, a full statement of good editions specially prepared for schools being attempted because of the value of variety of annotation and interpretation in class work. Wherever possible, cheap editions in paper, such as students can afford have been mentioned. Many of these are excellent though too perishable to be bought with public money for a library.

In German, French and Spanish literature there is much less opportunity for selection; in most cases all the desirable annotated editions are given, and occasionally an edition by no means satisfactory is included because no other was available. This is often the case with Spanish texts, and it is expected that old and unsatisfactory editions cited here will soon be superseded by American editions carefully edited and printed for school use.

Selections for memorizing

Dewey, Mrs J. M. comp. Selections for repetition from memory at the examinations conducted by the regents of the University of the State of New York, in connection with Spanish literature. Bardeen, paper 10c.
